BigBlue SolarPowa 28The BigBlue SolarPowa 28impressed our testers with its ability to balance portability and solar charging efficiency better than any other solar panel we tested. This model has impressive solar charging abilities in both direct sunlight and during cloudy days, and it weighs less than all but the smallest 5-watt panels. It unfolds into four solar panels quickly and easily, and it's light enough to prop up or hang off of just about anything to get an ideal charging angle to maximize efficiency.X-Dragon 20WThough the zippered pouch on the X-Dragon 20W makes storing your charging cables easy, it does make it harder to lay this panel completely flat on the ground. A canvas flap secures on top of the mesh zippered pouch. This flap, along with the pouch, make it so the panel sits at an awkward angle when you try to lay it flat. This isn't a huge deal, and it's easily fixed by propping it on another object, but all that extra material under one of the three panels makes it harder to deal with. But. FlexSolar 40WThe FlexSolar 40Wis a high-output model that easily unfolds from the size of a large book into six solar panels. This is our top choice if you want an easy-to-use solar charger setup that doesn't sacrifice wattage. This doesn't have any velcro, magnets, or other clasps to deal with when folding and unfolding this panel, which makes it very easy to set up. And it's just as easy to take down when you're done charging. It has a DC output capable of putting out 19 volts of power, so it's capable. Goal Zero Nomad 5The Goal Zero Nomad 5is our top pick if portability is your top pr...
